FIRST OF MAY SELECTED FOR MOVING OF CHILDREN

Little Ones Taken on Excursion to See Place Where They Will Live.

Definite action was taken Tuesday at the special meeting of the Ladies' Aid society of the First Congrega-

In connection with their still hunt for small change, the women are busy selecting two important articles—a large range for the kitchen and a suitable refrigerator. They have not as yet decided on the special make of either one of these necessities, but within a few days both must be in their places if the grand moving day is to be May 1.

A slight misunderstanding arose is to be May !.

A slight misunderstanding arose about the statement that the children were to be moved the first of the week, when, as a matter of fact, the children were simply taken on an excursion, to be shown the lovely spot to which they are shortly to be moved. The task of moving will be a large one, but as much of the furnishing will be new, and will be in before the old place is abandoned, this work will be lightened as much as possible.

GRAND JURY EXAMINES MURDER CASE WITNESS

Two more witnesses—Mrs. Fred Price and Mrs. Mamie Stilvar—in the case of Laura Vandaveer Shaunty, charged with the murder of Paul Shaunty, a private at Fort Douglas, were examined by the United States grand jury Tuesday. The United States grand jury Tuesday morning was hearing the case of a cowboy, who is under the surveillance of the United States marshal's office, for an offense recently committed on the United States Indian reservation at Moccasin, Ariz.

WITNESS LACKS FUNDS TO TRAVEL TO NEW YORK

Tracy S Buckingham, one of the witnesses for the government in the case of the United States against F. Augustus Heinze, charged with over-certification of the Mercantile National bank of New York during the panic of 1907, is in Salt Lake, and has found it impossible to go to New York in answer to a summons, owing to lack of funds.

Buckingham applied to United States Marshal James H. Anderson, who has informed the officials at New York.

Aid society of the First Congregational church, whereby the Intermediate ward of the new Orphans' home will be furnished by the society and maintained for a period of years by the members. The furnishing, aside from the cots, of which a large supply is already on hand, will cose about $200, and, in addition to this outlay, there will be all the sewing of linen and bedding.

The same work for the boys' dormitory will be undertaken by the ladies of St. Mark's guild, who, on Tuesday, took action on the matter and began the work of preparation. This leaves only the baby ward to be arranged for, and as a number of the little cots are already spoken for by individuals, there will be no difficulty about arranging for its furnishing. One woman has asked to have the privilege of furnishing one room entirely.

In connection with their still hunt for small change, the women are busy selecting two important articles—a large range for the kitchen and a suntable refrigerator. They have not as yet decided on the special make of either one of these necessities, but within a few days both must be in quets of American Beauties and carrillons were presented Miss Warburton.

Orpheum audiences are becoming more discriminating year by year, and as they grow more exacting the standard of entertainment is raised by marked degrees. Four or five years ago such a bill as is being presented at the Orpheum tilts week would have been an impossibility for the reason that such acts as it contains were not obtainable. For instance, this programme contains a ministere comic opera with a cast of ten persons, and a drama in which several actors are required, in addition to nearly a score of extra girls needed in the parade scene. The great expense involved in such elaborate presentations would have been a sufficient deterrent a few years ago. Now it is no uncommon thing to find six to a dozen persons in a single sketch, which requires twenty minutes or so for its presentation and constitutes only one-seventh of the evening's entertainment. The cost of an act is the least of the managerial worries, so long as the act pleases. Ornheum audiences are becoming more

EVENTS IN LIFE OF JOB

Dr. Rhys Lloyd delivered a lecture in Barratt hall Tuesday evening en "The Poem of Job." The speaker was attired in full Palestine robes. He described the garment, which, he said, was the kind worn by the disciples in the time of Christ, and which was now in vogue in the old world.

Dr. Lloyd's lecture upon "The Poem of Job" consisted largely of a review of historical events told in the Bible.

There was a large attendance. Tonight in Harratt hell Dr. Lloyd will deliver the third of a series of loctures which he has been giving this week.

The audience yesterday afternoon and two big audiences last night voted the picture by far the best that they had ever seen. It is an added attraction to a good bill.

Theodore Lorch and company are presenting the greatest of all labor plays at the Grand theater this week, called "Lost Paradise." It is a play in which the laboring man is fighting for what he thinks right and just and when his demands meet with rebuff, a strike is declared and the men are seen to walk out of the works. It is a story of intense heart interest throughout, and the three acts are filled with dramatic and intense situations. The rough places which appeared at Sunday night's performance have been smoothed and a first class production is given.

There are three headline vaudeville acts at the Casino this week in addition to the moving pictures. There is fifteen minutes of real mirth and melody in the act of Miller and Dair; the Kawance Japs present an extraordinary juggling and balancing act while Jede Dresdner, the "Pocket Edition Comedian" does a turn that is very funny. There are matiness daily.
